Lauren Pooley, 16, has made it through to the grand final of the national singing competition TeenStar where she will perform to a crowd of thousands at The O2 in London. After wowing the judges at her audition in the Liner Hotel, Liverpool, by singing Adele's 'One and Only'.

COWARDLY ATTACK ON BLIND LADY

A BLIND woman was robbed while walking on a busy Walton street.

The 55-year-old was walking along County Road towards a subway, close to the junction with Queens Drive, when she was attacked from behind.

The offender, who was possibly accompanied by several others, punched or pushed the victim hard in her back causing her to fall to the ground.

Money that she was carrying in order to go and pay a bill was stolen by her attackers, who then fled.

The woman managed to pick herself up and catch a bus home and later sought medical advice from her GP after developing chest, neck and back pain.

Report by
Ollie Cowan

The incident happened at around 3.15pm on Tuesday, June 18 at a busy time of day when children were going home from school and many people will have been commuting along County Road. It was reported to the police at the weekend.

Detective Inspector Jimmy Belmar from St Anne Street CID, said: "This was a despicable attack on a vulnerable member of our community who was simply going about her daily business."

"We do not have any evidence to suggested she was targeted because she is registered blind, but we cannot rule it out."

"She does carry a small electronic magnifying glass to help with her vision but nothing else about her appearance would suggest she was partially sighted."

"I believe that this was an opportunistic robbery in which the offender or offenders have waited for someone to come along."

"I am therefore urging people to cast their minds back to last Tuesday and think if they saw anything suspicious at this time of day."

"If so, I am keen to hear from you so that we can identify who is responsible for this cowardly incident and arrest them."

The victim, who does not want to be identified, is recovering at home with the help of a friend.

Lauren's journey to the big stage

Lauren went on to battle her way through the semi-final stage and land herself a place at the Grand Final which is taking place on July 7.

Lauren, a former Maricourt High School student, found out about the competition after her mother Clare Pooley entered her knowing how good her daughter's talent is.

Having always had a passion for singing, Lauren said: "I have been singing since I was three when my nan encouraged me to sing on karaoke at family parties and ever since, I have loved it."

"I have entered other singing competitions in the past but that was when I was 11 so I feel I have developed massively since then."

Since finding out about her success in the competition Lauren has fought to fund her trip to London, having taken part in many bag packing events and spoke to Fazakerley councillors who helped contribute funds towards a coach to take her family and friends to the arena.

Throughout the competition she had to sell over 75 tickets and is responsible for all of her costumes, make up and hair.

Teenager kidnapped then shot in his legs

Report by Holly Rummens

A TEENAGER from Kirkdale was kidnapped, shot in the legs and then dumped near the Leeds to Liverpool canal in a suspected targeted attack.

The 16-year-old boy was seen getting forced into the back of a black car on Primrose Street, Kirkdale, believed to be at around 10.30pm on Monday July 1.

Around an hour later a full investigation was launched following a report that the missing boy had been left abandoned with shotgun wounds to both his legs.

Paramedics found the boy dumped over a metal gate leading to the embankment of the Leeds to Liverpool canal on Landor Close, where he was taken away on a stretcher to a near by hospital.

The full extent of the boys condition is unknown although it is thought that his injuries are not life threatening.

Officers from Merseyside Police are investigating the incident and have cordoned off Landor Close for a full forensic examination team to inspect the area, whilst high visibility patrols have been stepped up in the area.

DCI Richie Salter of the Matrix team said: "I would appeal to anyone who has seen anything in either Primrose Street at, or around 10.30pm or in Landor Street just over an hour later to come forward."

Family appeal for missing mum and sons

Report by
Holly Rummens

A MUM from Anfield has disappeared from her home along with her two children.

Rebecca Collins was last seen by a relative leaving a house in Winslow Street, Anfield, around lunchtime on Sunday June 23.

The 36-year-old left the house with her two sons, Alfie aged four and Archie, aged three.

Rebecca is white, around 5 ft 2ins tall, with shoulder length dyed auburn coloured hair and blue eyes. When she was last seen she was wearing a pink flowered 'all-in-one' and a cream jacket.

Merseyside Police and Rebecca's family are growing increasingly concerned for her welfare, saying that this is really out of character for her and are keen to hear that she is safe and well.

It is thought she has relatives in North Yorkshire and officers in Liverpool believe she may have travelled there or on to Humberside since Sunday.

Inspector Georgina Minery from Merseyside Police, said: "I would like to appeal directly to Rebecca and ask her simply to get in otuch with the police or a relative to let someone know she and her boys are safe and well. Rebecca is not in any trouble and has not done anything wrong but her disappearance is so out of character and unusual, people are understandably worried. She does not need to call the police but we'd urge that she calls a trusted friend or family member or even the Missing People charity so that someone knows everything is okay.

"We believe Rebecca may have travelled outside of Merseyside to Yorkshire and I would like to ask the public in North Yorkshire and Humberside to take a good look at her photo and call us on 101 or Missing People on 116 000 if you remember seeing her or her sons Archie and Alfie in recent days. Your information, however small, could help us establish that they are all safe and well."

Police officers are appealing for the public's help in tracing the missing mother and her sons, anyone who knows anything about her whereabouts is asked to call Merseyside Police on 0151 777 4634.

AS PART of Carers Week 2013, Steve Rotheram MP for Walton, took part in a bag packing session to help raise vital funds for a special needs charity.

The local Labour MP attended the bag packing session at Sainsbury's store on Rice Lane, Walton, to help fundraise for the Fazakerley Special Needs Project, a charity which is committed to supporting people of all ages with learning difficulties and disabilities and helping them achieve their potential, as well as providing activities and training.

During the events the Fazakerley Special Needs Project managed to raise a total of £720.

After previously taken on the role of a Fazakerley Councillor and Lord Mayor, Steve Rotheram said he felt this occasion was close to his heart.

Bishop steps down

THE Bishop of Liverpool held his last official ordinations before his final service when he officially appointed 10 candidates as Deacons in the Church of England.

The service was held at Liverpool Cathedral on June 29 and was one of his final acts before leaving his service on July 3.

During his time as Bishop of Liverpool, Bishop James Jones has ordained over 200 people who have gone on to serve the church in a variety of capacities both in his own district and the national Church of England.

Bishop Jones chaired the Hillsborough Independent Panel, which cleared fans of blame for the tragedy in its report last September.

Ordination in the Church of England is a two part process. The order of Deacon enables them to perform certain key duties within a parish, including the baptism of new Christians.

Deacons will then normally spend a year working as an assistant to a vicar before the Bishop ordains them to the priesthood when they are also able to celebrate Holy Communion.

Bishop Jones said: "During my fifteen years as Bishop of Liverpool it has been an immense privilege to ordain so many women and men who have heard and responded to the call of God on their lives.

"Hearing their sacrificial journey to priesthood and many stories told of challenges overcome is humbling and inspiring. So as I reflect on my last ordination service in our magnificent cathedral, I give thanks to God for those He has called, and those he will call, to ordained leadership in our church.

"Ordinations are powerful expressions of God's grace felt keenly by anyone who has been present in the congregation. Many have heard their own call from God whilst sitting in support of another. I pray that God continues to call his faithful people to serve in the Diocese of Liverpool and that we, his people, continue to have the courage to answer his call."

Local Plan step closer despite fierce opposition from groups

Report by Ollie Cowan

Council approves controversial 'Option 2' for consultation

SEFTON Council has approved the controversial Local Plan 'option two' for consultation, despite fierce opposition from a number of councillors and campaigners.

The proposals, which will see Sefton undergo major changes between now and 2030, has caused major upset as it looks to build on green belt land across the borough.

Maria Bennett, chairperson of FRAGOFF (Formby Residents Action Group Opposition From Formby) told The Champion: "I've just sat through a three-hour comedy sketch.

"A number of councillors, mostly from the Labour lot, didn't turn up. Although other matters were debated we were keen to address the Local Plan and building on agricultural land.

"The plan doesn't address infrastructure or any major issues. The plans are going to consultation but ideally we would have liked to have seen the council speak to us, deal with our issues and work with us to find a plan that is suitable to everyone.

"There are simply too many houses. They should address a medium between the options which would benefit everybody and we'd all be happy with – but they aren't going to do that.

"We didn't get chance to read all of our statement because we were stopped so we couldn't get all our points across.

FRAGOFF submitted a petition of 3581 signatures against the green belt development."

Another local resident, Freda Keniani, said: "It appears to me that the Labour councillors are just following a party script."

Jan Roberts from Formby added: "I thought Councillor Tony Dawson should be commended for his speech and how well he represented the electorate."

During the meeting Southport Councillor Sue McGuire tweeted that she had just spoken to raise concerns that option two includes no reference to the equally controversial shale gas fracking in Banks.

Peter Dowd, head of Sefton Council, told the Champion: "We are a democracy and everybody has a right to air their views.

"Unfortunately at the end of the day we had to make a decision as a council."

Jess Shaw

Code NA

A PUPIL from St. Mary's College has been honoured for submitting one of the top entries in a national competition highlighting new ways to teach German language and culture.

Jess Shaw, aged 16, from Bootle, was awarded her prize by Oxford University after being highly commended in a contest organised by the Oxford German Network.

The network is run by the university to promote cross-cultural co-operation with Germany and involves schools, businesses, cultural organisations and policy makers.

In the competition, pupils were asked to submit ideas for a new networking activity that would provide an effective and enjoyable German language learning experience.

This could take the form of a new way of networking German learners with each other, or with native German speakers.

Alternatively, it could be a new interactive classroom teaching idea, or a new concept for a computer game or app.

Jess's successful entry was called 'Driving Deutsch'; a concept for a computer driving game where players make their way around Germany by car, completing a variety of German language challenges in the process.

Jess said: "I am delighted to have been chosen for this honour. I can't think of a better way to celebrate the many years of hard work I've put in and the continuous support I've received from the modern foreign languages department at St. Mary's."

"I would particularly like to thank my German teacher, Mrs McKean, without whom I would not have achieved this success."

St. Mary's College principal, Mike Kennedy, said: "I would like to congratulate Jess on being recognised by such a prestigious organisation which is a tremendous achievement."

"Following on from similar successes by other pupils earlier in the year in subjects including geography and science, it demonstrates once again how our students are able to make their mark at regional and national level."

Show has the X Factor for drama students!

by Evelyn Robinson

SACRED Heart drama students, along with members of the college's choir and orchestra, spruced themselves up and back-combed their hair for a trip to the Liverpool Empire recently to see Hairspray the musical.

Director of Performing Arts, Mrs Fraser said: "Apart from the fact Hairspray is a great show, there was the added bonus that an ex-student with a definite X-Factor was starring in it."

This was Marcus Collins, who was playing Seaweed Stubbs.

Mrs Fraser enthused: "It was a high-energy, whirlwind of a show that kept the whole audience entertained throughout. The cast delivered amazing performances and all the technical aspects of the show were superb."

As for Marcus, he was, of course, the star of the show and it was not just Sacred Heart staff and students who thought so.

Every time he came on stage, the whole audience roared with approval.

But perhaps the highlight of the evening for our students was when Marcus met them after the show and spent time chatting with them and signing their programmes and tickets."

Sacred Heart students have also enjoyed an IT trip to London to learn about the role and importance of IT in the success of last year's Olympic Games.

ICT teacher Mr. Forrest said of the trip: "After a long journey down, we finally arrived at the River Thames for a one hour boat cruise to Greenwich."

In the glorious sunshine, we took in many famous sites such as Big Ben, Tower Bridge and the Houses of Parliament."

Josh Stanton from 10E said: "I really enjoyed the trip and would like to go again next year."

The boat trip in the sun was particularly enjoyable."

After the cruise, the students had some free time to shop in Convent Garden.

Here the students took in a number of street artists from jugglers to acrobats, then headed to the famous West End to take in the Thriller Live show, which celebrates the life of Michael Jackson.

An early start on day two saw the group head to Hackney Marshes for a classroom session looking at how ICT was used in the staging of the Olympics.

This was followed by a guided tour around the outskirts of the Olympic Park before lunch.

Mr Forrest said: "In the afternoon, we visited a viewing gallery in Europe's largest shopping centre, Westfield, which provided the students with an aerial viewing of the entire Olympic Park set-up."

Coronation Street stone mason was drink driving, court told

A STONE mason said to be working on the new set of Coronation Street was caught drink-driving and nearly three times over the limit.

Terry Mooney, 35, of Salisbury Avenue, Bootle, was seen in his Citroen Berlingo by police at 2.45am on June 9 at the junction of Albert Schweitzer Avenue and Brown's Lane. He was observed starting to "weave" between the kerb and the road.

Suspected of being under the influence of alcohol he was stopped, whereupon he told the officers he'd had four beers a couple of hours before.

Subsequent breath tests gave a lowest reading of 101mg alcohol per 100 ml (the legal limit being 35mg/100ml). He pleaded guilty to driving with excess alcohol at Sefton Magistrates on June 28.

Defence solicitor Mr Chemonais said that Mooney, who is a partner in a stone masonry company currently working in Manchester for the popular soap, went out driving following an argument with his partner. He had never gone out drink-driving before, he said.

The magistrates disqualified him from driving for 24 months, with the option to reduce that by 6 months if he undertook a drink-driving awareness course. He was also ordered to do 50 hours of unpaid work, and pay prosecution costs of £85, along with a £60 victim surcharge.

Anfield charity in plea for food donations

AN ANFIELD charity is encouraging local residents to donate food to help those struggling to live.

Anfield Breck Community Centre has been providing food for the past year to struggling families through their Food U Need programme.

Each week ABCC sees up to 15 to 25 people seeking help and support with food, and last Christmas the community centre could only afford to give one parcel per person for the month.

The programme, which has given out nearly 300 food parcels this year, uses a number of ways to provide support through food.

The community centre is offering, family food nights, where parents and children can learn to cook, men only cooking sessions and a back to basics workshop.

The food parcels offered are for the people in the local community who are finding it hard to spare money to buy food.

ABCC manager Ruth Little said: "There is a misguided assumption that the only people who use food banks and require food supplies are those who are addicts or alcoholics. This is not the case, we see a lot of people who come to us whose circumstances have changed, or have had their benefits stopped."

The community centre is asking people donate any food to their programme by calling into the ABCC or contacting them on abccpriory@hotmail.com

McCallum and Tritton & Sons, based at Stanley Road, has had a complete refit with facilities both inside and out of the site being updated.

A re-dedication of their chapels of repose was held recently which was attended by several local religious dignitaries.

The company has been at their current premises for over 10 years following their move from Knowsley Road, where they were established for over 50 years.

OUR MAN IN BRAZIL

Martin calls the shots for world soccer organisation Fifa.com

WHILE the eyes of the world were on Brazil last weekend for the Confederations Cup final, keeping millions of internet users up-to-date with each kick was a man from Brighton-le-Sands.

Eight years ago Martin O'Boyle, 32, who went to St Edmund's & St Thomas' Primary School and Sacred Heart, landed his dream job working for Fifa.com.

After studying history at Lancaster University Martin took up a role working as a communications officer for Everton FC where his first encounter with a footballing legend left him red-faced.

Martin, who now lives in

by David Raven

Parbold, said: "I walked into my matchday office at Goodison and there was a guy standing with his back to me watching the TV.

"I thought it was one of the groundstaff, so I breezed in and said 'morning!' – the figure turned round. It was Gazza.

"He replied 'morning – and who the hell are you?'" I'm Martin,' I said and added 'and who the hell are you?'"

"Fortunately for me, he laughed, introduced himself as 'Paul' and asked me to get a cup of tea and watch Soccer AM with him!"

After three years in that role Martin moved on to work for the official Fifa and Fifa World Cup website.

He is now lead editor and will be flying back from Brazil this week following the culmination of the Confederations Cup Final, which the home nation triumphed 3-0 over Spain.

He added: "Inside the stadiums, the atmosphere in Brazil is absolutely fantastic – unlike anything I've ever heard, especially when the host country's national anthem is sung.

"Obviously, the tournament has been played amidst protests against the Brazilian government and I've received a few concerned calls, texts, tweets and Facebook messages, asking if I was caught up in it.

"The truth is that I wasn't and I didn't see any trouble. However, it's obviously something which is affecting the whole country at various levels.

"I was in a restaurant last Friday which turned the TVs on when the President made her address to the nation in which she outlined her concessions.

"The whole place fell silent. Imagine that happening at the Little Pizza Kitchen!"

Martin added that the best parts of his job are the tournaments and having the chance to interview David Beckham and Sir Alex Ferguson.

He said: "I love football and I've been fortunate to go to two World Cups, two Olympic games and visit Africa, Asia, North and South America and experience different cultures.

"If I could give advice to any younger people looking to get into this career then I'd say get as much experience as you can, as early as you can – and take every chance you can possibly get.

"Anyone who wants to get into this line of work needs to make their own opportunities and make the most of them when they do."

When taking a break from his hectic schedule in Brazil over the past two weeks Martin helped organise the Songs of the Silver Screen charity event for Jospice at the Plaza Cinema.

He is in charge of St Edmund's Choir, a post he has held for 14 years and the choir are set for a key role in the event along with well-known Crosby mezzo soprano Danielle Thomas.

Martin added: "Like many people in the area, I've had family members and friends of the family who have received wonderful care at Jospice and I've always supported them wherever possible.

"This event is a real celebration of community – and I think that everyone who comes is in for a great evening."

The event will take place at the Plaza Cinema on Sunday, July 14, from 7.30pm. Tickets range from £8-10 and can be purchased from the Plaza Box Office or on 0151 924 3812.

'Overwhelming response' to better boiler scheme

Report by Jim Sharpe

A SCHEME to repair and replace boilers at homes in Sefton has had an 'overwhelming response' with 1,000 residents taking advantage of the scheme.

The agency behind the scheme say that while the initial target has been reached, further phases are planned for the future and will be publicised as funds become available.

Sefton Central MP, Bill Esterson said the success of Energy Alliance's 'Better Boiler' scheme would give people the opportunity to benefit from free boiler checks, repairs or even replacement boilers to ensure homes are warmer next winter.

He added: "I see many constituents struggling to meet their fuel bills so I welcome any initiative which helps them become more energy efficient and save money."

"Household energy prices are soaring, so this scheme has to be welcomed. This is an excellent initiative which I hope will be repeated in the future."

Energy Alliance marketing director Simon Holmes said the response to the scheme was "overwhelming."

He said: "More energy efficient boilers have a positive impact on people's fuel bills as well as being better for the environment."

"We hope to be in a position to fund more boilers soon for the people of Merseyside."

Go the Extra Mile

Sefton residents are being encouraged to Go the Extra Mile for their health during the summer by stopping smoking. Throughout July SUPPORT, Sefton's local and free NHS Stop Smoking Service, is promoting the Go the Extra Mile campaign to raise awareness of the health benefits from quitting cigarettes.

"Not only will people have more energy and be able to breathe easier if they stop smoking but they'll also have extra money at the end of the month," explains Colette Kearney, Team Leader for the Stop Smoking Service. "By quitting cigarettes, people will be going the extra mile for their family and friends too as secondhand smoke won't be affecting their health anymore."

Anyone wanting support to stop smoking are invited to come along to any of the team's start-up sessions in Sefton. The invitation also goes out to those who have tried before as the team recognises it can take several attempts before becoming smokefree.

Residents seek support from West Lancs in wind farm battle

Report by Holly Rummens

AN action group set up to oppose plans for a wind farm near Lower Altcar are to press West Lancashire Borough Council to back them in their fight to have the proposals scrapped.

Residents, and Sefton and parish council members gathered at Ince Blundell Village Hall last week to discuss plans for 24 wind turbines to be built on green belt land.

Coriolis Energy want to build the wind farm on land to the south east of Withins Lane, Great Altcar in West Lancashire meaning Sefton councillors don't have the authority to make the final decision.

The wind farm, is expected to include up to 24 turbines up to 136m tall and Coriolis say each turbine will be able to generate enough electricity for around 1,200 homes.

Ravenmeols Ward Labour Councillor Peter Maguire said he was concerned at the lack of communication from West Lancashire Council in relation to this proposal. He added: "This is obviously a major concern, as is the fact that this proposal is yet another development earmarked for green belt land."

West Lancashire Borough Council say they cannot comment on the matter until a formal application has been made but West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said she would oppose the plan.

She said: "The site is located within the green belt and the area has dozens of listed buildings and acres of prime agricultural land. These proposals would be damaging to the local community."

"I accept we need to reduce our reliance on fossil fuels but we must strike a balance between views of local residents who will have to live with these developments and our energy requirements as a whole."

The public exhibitions held by the energy company showed just how the turbines will dominate the skyline.

Formby Parish Council stated: "This area is considered a heritage landscape and is an extremely important area for wildlife. The harm that this potential wind farm could do to the local environment is incalculable."

Vicky Portwain, project manager from Coriolis Energy said the firm is carrying out detailed environmental surveys and that once they are complete, an application will be submitted.

She added: "We will continue to consult with local stakeholders including residents. While there has been vocal opposition, we have also received supportive comments."

"Any planning decision will take account of the environmental benefits of the wind farm – each wind turbine could provide enough green electricity to supply over 1,600 homes."

She added they were consulting residents on a scheme that would see those living closest to the wind farm receiving between £250 and £400 in discounts off the incumbent local electricity suppliers' tariff.

Revenge mission!

by David Raven

DAVID Price has said he will be looking to the 'Miracle of Istanbul' Champions League final for inspiration during his comeback fight against Tony Thompson this weekend.

The 29-year-old 6ft 8in heavyweight suffered his first defeat of his professional career earlier this year when the American caught him off-guard with an unsuspecting hook to the side of his face.

Price wants to bounce back but instead of quoting boxing heroes or looking to world champion sparring partner Lennox Lewis for tips, the Liverpool fan is psyching himself up by thinking of his club's most nail-biting footballing match – a 3-0 comeback to 3-3 and penalty win over AC Milan.

He said: "To be honest most of us still don't know how we won that final but we were all back on board after that."

"But those emotions have stood me in good stead since my defeat. In adversity, you find out things about other people. When you're winning everyone wants to be your mate. Then you're on the wrong end of an upset and a lot jump off the bandwagon."

"Luckily for me I have a small, tight group of very good friends. But I noticed how others went missing. I'm not bitter. It's up to me to win the fans back and that's another incentive to set the record straight on Saturday night."

Speaking about Price, Lewis said: "David is a good guy, maybe too much of a good guy. I'm going to get some nastiness in him."

Anfield's David Price looks to the 'Miracle of Istanbul' for inspiration in return clash with Tony Thompson

"The physical aspect, the determination, the desire – he's got all that. I'm going to get him mean."

Making his professional debut on the undercard will be light-heavyweight Lee Boyce, who went to Maghull High School but now lives in Bootle and works for Delta taxis.

The 29-year-old Kirkby ABC man told the Champion recently: "I'm very excited to be boxing in such a big arena, I've always said that if I ever turn pro then to get the opportunity to box in the Echo Arena would be fantastic."

"Watching my Scouse idols like Paul Smith, Tony Bellew and Derry Matthews all fight in the Echo Arena, it is an opportunity I have been crying out for and I have now sold quite a few tickets."

"Sometimes I lay awake in bed and think what happens if I get knocked out in front of all of those people – so I get nervous butterflies but also excited ones which is good to have a balance of the two."

"I'm going there to go out and show what skills that I have got and put them to good use by hopefully beating who I have in front of me while taking it one fight at a time."

"I feel I'm an honest person and not some kind of superstar so just to be boxing out there will be an absolute dream of mine coming true."

The fight will take place on Saturday at the Liverpool Echo Arena and will be screened on Box Nation.

Kindness makes up for hazards of my journey

Now aged 91, I gave my car up in May and purchased a mobility scooter.

Opposite my bungalow is Coronation Park, across which is a path, the surface of which is more suitable for a fairground.

After crossing, I was that shaken about I swore I was in need of medical attention.

Now for a nice run to Maghull Square.

As a previous car owner I was amazed at the thoughtless parking.

I know that some roads are so narrow cars will park with two wheels mounted on the kerbside, but some are mounted with half the car on the pavement.

Hedges which badly need trimming obstruct the passing, making the use of the road necessary for both myself and mums with prams.

On I go, the uneven pavements giving me a good massage and arrive at the square.

Most people are very thoughtful to the likes of me.

They will move to allow me access, they will stop and chat.

This kindness makes me up for all the hazards of my journey.

I do miss my car, but I'm grateful for my scooter.

RP George, Maghull

We could rename it Sainsbury's Village

Why is MP Mr Esterson so obsessed with trying to have a new Sainsbury's supermarket built in the village?

The planners don't want it and nor do a lot of the people he is to suppose to represent.

If plans for the new Sainsbury's store had been passed, the building would have had an area with a perimeter bordered by the bypass on one side, Little Crosby Road on the other and as far down as Allen Gate.

That would not leave much left of the Village, and then we could then go the whole hog and campaign that we change the name of the Village from Crosby Village to Sainsbury's Village.

Mr Esterson should direct his energy towards getting our once beautiful Village cleaned up and get the property speculators' to remove the obnoxious hoardings that are situated along Allen Gate and around the old Central Building site.

We have had to put up with this eyesore for years.

S Abbott, Crosby

No need to build on green belt

There is no requirement for any building on Sefton's green belt.

Sefton's population was shown, in the 2000 census, to be just over 300,000, but this had fallen to 273,000 by the time of the 2011 census, i.e. a 9% fall in population over an 11-year period.

The higher year 2000 census figure – along with a completely unfounded projection (i.e. a guess) that Sefton's population will rise over coming years – have been used to give the false suggestion that Sefton needs a substantially greater number of houses to be built.

The existence of large numbers of properties for rent, for which tenants cannot be found, clearly indicates that the supply of local housing already exceeds demand.

Further to this, even if the case could be legitimately made that Sefton needs more houses to be built.

Not one square foot of Sefton's green belt land should be built upon until every available square foot of Sefton's brown field land has been built upon.

The people of Sefton have made it abundantly clear that they are opposed to building on the green belt.

Please vote to reflect the feelings and wishes of the people you were elected to represent, rather than to reflect the feelings and wishes of the Labour Party, nationally, and to safeguard your own, personal, political career.

Have the guts and the common decency to put doing what's right for the people before doing what your party tells you to do. That is what representative democracy is all about.

Re: One Man and His Dog.

Your man with the dog tells us that he needs "a means of sending and receiving emails without the whole paraphernalia of computers, iPhones or tablets" but that he has "accepted the idea of using a laptop and memory stick to replace the old typewriter."

Why not use the laptop to send and receive emails?

Area committee has used funds for various community projects

We would point out that the letter from former councillor Martyn Barber (June 19) is incorrect.

The information that he has provided is as equally outdated and out of touch with what the Labour Manor Ward councillors have been doing on the ground for their constituents.

His figures regarding Area Committee funding are incorrect.

For example, we have contributed to Helping Hands, Kings Church, repairs to railings on Runnell's Lane playing field, amongst other items, to improve the community.

With regard to his comments regarding Labour only being in Bootle and his views about the Labour Party activity in Sefton as well are incorrect. We have representation in Maghull, Formby, Hightown, Crosby, Thornton, Waterloo, Melling and Aintree and, last year, we got 20% of the popular vote in Southport.

We came within a whisker of winning seats in Southport. Overall, we received 49% of the votes in Sefton.

The Labour Party works for all the people in Sefton and works tirelessly to protect them.

Cllrs Diane Roberts, Steve McGinnity and John J Kelly, Manor Ward Councillors.

Only real jobs get people in work

The Coalition Government tells us, unemployment is coming down... is it?

It's only coming down because the Government are taking unemployed people off Jobseekers Allowance and putting them with work place agencies (A4E and the like) who's figures are not counted when calculating the numbers for employed and unemployed. Unemployment is coming down but not, NOT through people getting work.

I'm sick to the back teeth of government after government constantly coming out with initiatives for this and initiatives for that. Initiatives don't get people in to work, real jobs get people back in to work.

It's about time our elected MPs from all the political parties who live in their ivory towers and earning massive wages and expenses, did something about it.

Youngsters excel at Maths challenge

TWO gifted mathematicians from Merchant Taylors' Boys' School have excelled at the Jaguar Maths in Motion Challenge, coming 10th in their age group nationally.

Year 7 students Harry Greaves and Alex Thorpe finished ahead of over 100,000 pupils to reach the National Final of the competition.

The boys competed against the top mathematicians in the U14 age category, meaning they were up against rivals two years their senior.

The competition was aimed at school children between eight and 16 years old and demonstrated how maths can be innovatively used outside the classroom.

The boys had previously won a series of internal school races and regional heats within the North West before entering the semi-final knock out round.

Merchant Taylors' Maths teacher Linda McVey accompanied them to the final at the National Heritage Motor Museum in Warwickshire. She said: "Both Alex and Harry showed true sportsmanship in their positive and mature attitude. I am extremely proud."

Business advice a piece of cake!

Report by David Raven

A SOUTH Sefton-based organisation has reported a very successful first half of the year for business advice for new entrepreneurs across Merseyside. South Sefton Development Trust has helped 29 new small businesses to get off the ground over the last six months, and claims this reflects the fact that more people are considering self-employment in the current uncertain jobs market.

The development trust's service is unusual because as well as training and one-to-one business support, it also provides a £250 revenue grant.

This year's new crop of fledgling businesses include a cake designer, a training firm, several fashion designers, a bespoke handbag designer, an acting workshop and educational and careers service providers.

Other new businesses include a jewellery designer, a picture framing business, a social enterprise providing support to disadvantaged young people and a fitness and diet consultant.

Over the past six months, the Development Trust has also helped Catherine Cook to turn her passion for baking into a successful new business, Patti Cakes Studio.

Catherine has won many plaudits for her delicious cupcakes and larger celebration cakes for any occasion.

Business adviser, Eve Money, said: "It's been a real pleasure to help talented young people and I'm sure they will go on to make great successes."

The Mayor of Sefton Cllr Maureen Fearn receives the keys to the new Electric Mayoral Car from John Robinson of Symphony who supplied the vehicle. Code1060124

Sefton mayor trades Jaguar for green Leaf

SEFTON'S mayor has traded in her Jaguar for much greener alternative.

As part of the council's continued commitment to energy and overall savings, a new electric car has just been leased for councillor Maureen Fearn, the current Mayor of Sefton.

From the beginning of July, Cllr Fearn will attend hundreds of functions in a new black electric Nissan Leaf vehicle leased in a sponsorship deal with Liverpool based Symphony Cars Ltd. Her previous car was a black Jaguar XJ.

The top-of-the-range ECOSYMPH Leaf is 100% electric and has zero emissions meaning it also has no road tax and approximately 85% less maintenance costs.

The running costs are also impressive as it can travel 1,000 miles on a charge costing about £15.

The new vehicle is even fitted with a solar panel which powers the sat nav and the air conditioning. It can seat up to 5 people and has a decent 370-litre boot – enough space to carry the mayoral chains!

The vehicle has been leased for a year from Symphony Cars Ltd and can be charged up at various electric points across the borough.

Student travels to Africa to help children with cancer

Report by Evelyn Robinson

sending those affected to hospital, paying for investigations such as ultrasound and most importantly, for chemotherapy to follow up and try to cure the cancer.

A MEDICAL and surgery student from the University of Liverpool has headed to Cameroon in Africa as part of her degree.

Abby Best from Crosby departed on July 1, just two days after her end of year exams as part of a fourth-year medical elective.

Applications for the placement were open to the whole country, but it was two Liverpool-based students who secured the places.

Abby is now working in the Bansa Baptist hospital on behalf of the Beryl Thyer Memorial Africa Trust, who specialise in looking after children with diagnosed or suspected Burkitt's Lymphoma.

Burkitt's Lymphoma is a cancer that usually affects children, but if caught early and given intensive treatment it is often curable.

Money raised by the trust goes towards

Abby's job is undertaking research and will join the morning ward rounds of the children's and infectious disease wards.

Before she left, Abby told the Champion: "We will be staying on the hospital grounds. It is a Baptist church hospital and it has a reputation for being particularly welcoming."

"I will be expected to attend some of the church services as well, which are apparently an extremely joyous occasion bringing all the community together."

Raising money for the trust is something Abby feels passionate about.

She told us: "This will be my first and certainly not the last time I will work with them and I intend to continue helping to raise funds in the future."

On returning from Africa in mid-August, Abby will have just three weeks to train for the London half marathon which she is running to help fundraise for the charity.

Pupils treated with trip to the capital

PUPILS from Crosby's Sacred Heart were treated to a trip to the capital to see what part computers played in last year's Olympic Games.

Some 27 students and four staff travelled to London as part of an ICT trip where they also visited the River Thames, Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament.

Pupil Josh Stanton said: "I really enjoyed the trip and would like to go again next year. The boat trip in the sun was particularly enjoyable."

Group cycle hundreds of miles for several charities

A GROUP of cyclists from Maghull have taken part in the challenge of a life time, cycling 874 miles for charity.

Ian Gent and Ralph Burgess from the Lydiat and Magull U3A, together with a member from the Aughton U3A, David Griffiths have cycled from Lands End to John O'Groats.

The non U3A event was funded entirely by themselves, in order to raise money for several charities.

Only the council could see a bench as an obstruction

WE'VE all got stories of various council's occasional petty-fogging meanness (such as the withdrawal of Maghull's free dog poo bags) and sporadic stupidities (I know of at least two locations where rubbish bins were sited within yards of each other) – but I have been confronted with a council stupidity which should really be put in for an award of some kind or another.

Yesterday I trundled along to Maghull's Central Square where 'Maghull in Bloom' volunteers were putting up flower troughs and hanging baskets.

And in the course of conversation I discovered that a bench, bought by the 'In Bloom' volunteers in memory of the late Bill Dwyer (who almost single-handedly cleaned up the canal towpath through Maghull) had been moved.

With the permission of London and Cambridge Properties who own the shops on the south side of the Square, the bench had been conveniently placed so weary travellers could sit in the sun and at the same time have a good view of buses approaching the adjacent stop.

Nearby was a salt bin for use in the winter – that had been there for donkeys' years. And all was well.

Until, came the day when a jobsworth from Sefton Council got to hear of it.

The Maghull in Bloom volunteers were told that the commemorative bench – and the salt bin too for that matter – were not only on Sefton land (which came as news to London and Cambridge as well) but was causing an obstruction.

It seems London and Cambridge do indeed own nearly all of the land – but not the first two paving flag's width running along the west side at the rear of a doctor's surgery.

So since the bench was in fact on Sefton's four feet or so of a wide walkway it was deemed an obstruction.

The only reasonable site nearby on London and Cambridge land is 15 yards or so away, directly facing the shop fronts, out of the sun for much of the time and no use at all for intending bus passengers.

Bill Dwyer would probably have seen the funny side. After all, he spent years battling with the then British Waterways who seemed hell bent on preventing anyone from clearing the litter from the canal banks – a task which they singularly failed to do themselves.

I confess though that the humour largely escaped me. A bench, mainly for the elderly, is deemed an obstruction. I suppose that the guardians of the public good at Sefton Council are thinking of the blind and partially sighted.

Which may sound reasonable – until you take a look at the various bits of street furniture that the same body countenances apparently quite happily.

We have lamp posts, a veritable scrap yard's worth of restrictions and other traffic signs littering the walkways. Not to mention the dreaded wheelie bins.

All of which, no doubt, Sefton are satisfied the blind and partially sighted can somehow sense.

But, coming from a council who have fought a war on shops' 'A' boards advertising their wares, yet will allow tables and chairs on pavements far more narrow than that near the old bench site – providing you pay for a licence which somehow makes them visible to the blind – this should have come as no surprise at all!

i-lipo

The i-lipo uses a low level of visible red laser light to stimulate the body's natural processes that empty the stored fat contents inside fat cells.

The laser light absorbs into individual fat cells in the treatment area, temporarily opening pores in the cell walls through which the cell contents can escape. This does not affect the neighbouring structure such as skin, blood vessels and peripheral nerves. The contents of the cells are collected by the lymphatic system and transported to the areas of the body where they can be metabolised into energy during exercise. This metabolism of the contents permanently removes them from the body leaving smaller fat cells and giving you inch loss.

Family joy as memorial plaque returns to park

Report by Ollie Cowan

AFTER a Crosby man's heartfelt appeal, a memorial plaque has finally been returned to its rightful place in Southport's Botanic Gardens.

The bench plaque, dedicated to a Sefton man called William 'Bill' Lightfoot (1907 – 2001) was found in storage at the resort's Gardens before it was rescued by a council employee.

Dennis Reeves, who works in Sefton Council's Parkforce team, kept good care of William's plaque for nearly ten years until he passed it over to a Seaforth man, also called Bill Lightfoot.

Bill took to his family tree and found he was no relation and so contacted The Champion to help find William's real family.

Following an article on June 19, the Champion office was flooded with calls and we can now reveal that William's family have repatriated his plaque back to the Botanical gardens.

Margaret Smythe, William Lightfoot's niece, said: "My sister and I could not believe it when we read the article and realised it was actually the plaque of our favourite uncle."

"The bench was bought for him by his second wife Hilda after William passed away, as they both loved spending warm afternoons sitting in the gardens."

"Hilda then passed away and we assumed the bench was still there."

Botanic Gardens Community Association members with the bench.

The story then takes another emotional turn as Margaret revealed William's 101 year old sister Lucy is critically ill in hospital.

"My mum is not very well and it would be lovely to let her know that the plaque is back safe and sound," added Margaret.

Volunteers of the Botanic Gardens Community Association are currently renovating 90 benches and they offered to put William's plaque back in the park.

"We feel honour bound to restore and look after the plaques and benches, some of which date back thirty or forty years," said chairman David Cobham.

"Each one takes about 45 hours to fully restore."

"We wanted to bring William's plaque back to the Gardens and place it on a nice bench for his family to come and see once more."

Bill Lightfoot kindly cleaned up the plaque before handing it over. He said: "I only had it for a short while and it is lovely to see it being returned. It's such an emotional story."

The plaque and bench are now on view just outside the Botanical Gardens museum.

Hospital chief talks of being 'centre of choice' for hearing services

Report by Holly Rummens

LOCAL and national organisations, including Aintree University Hospital, came together recently to support the Ear to the Ground event for people with hearing loss.

The free event for people with hearing loss, their family, friends and others to find out about services and help available to them locally and nationally.

It was a chance for people who use hearing aids or cochlear implants to find out more about hearing loops and how they can be improved in their local area.

More than 100 people attended the event, with organisations and groups from across the region taking part. The event held at The Liner Hotel was organised by the UK charity Hearing Link. A special feature of the day was a presentation by Tony Kay, head of audiology services, from Aintree University Hospital, NHS Trust Foundation, who spoke about its audiology services whose mission statement is to be the centre of choice for hearing, balance and tinnitus services.

He said: "It was a privilege to be invited to support and present at this event."

"I was amazed to see so many organisations and patients attend this information and social event and it was heartening to have so many patients express an interest in finding out more about the services we offer at Aintree. My thanks goes to all at Hearing Link for allowing organisations to promote their services and making the event possible."

For further information about Hearing Link and the services and support it offers, call its helpdesk on 0300 111 1113 or email enquiries@hearinglink.org.

The Nature Trail

by Graeme RYCYK

GRAEME RYCYK is the Champion's new nature columnist, and he will be discussing the wonders of our local wildlife in his new weekly column, 'The Nature Trail.'

Graeme is a Biology graduate, Arachnologist and a current PhD student studying the effects urbanization has on spiders across Merseyside.

He has studied a great deal of wildlife and most recently was in Indonesia working with some of the rarest animals on the planet. He is a passionate naturalist with interests ranging from invertebrates to birds.

Through his column, Graeme is inviting readers to get out and about each week and get a picture of the featured animal in The Nature Trail and send them to graeme.rycyk@gmail.com or tweet him @graeperry. The best pictures will be posted on his blog animalsoftheurbanjungle.tumblr.com.

So, keep up each week, learn all about the animals and when and where you can spot them.

This week... Common Name: Red Squirrel,
Latin Name: Sciurus vulgaris

RESIDENTS of Formby's pine woodland, these inquisitive, interesting and intelligent animals are in fact an endangered species, with only around 120,000 individuals remaining in the UK.

England is home to approximately 20,000 and the Formby squirrel reserve still records relatively high numbers. Sadly a decrease in around 80% of the red squirrel population occurred in 2008 after the squirrel poxvirus was transmitted to the squirrel population at Formby.

The red squirrel is protected in most of Europe, as it is listed in Appendix III of the Bern Convention.

The red squirrel has a body length of 19 to 23 cm, a tail length of 15 to 20 cm and they weigh between 250 to 340g. Red squirrels have a long fluffy tail used to assist in the squirrels balance while jumping and climbing. The coat of the red squirrel can actually vary in colour, between black and red, depending on the time of year but the underside of the squirrel is always white/cream in colour.

Mating between red squirrels can occur twice in a year, between February and March and between June and July. Each litter usually contains three or four young although up to six may be born. The gestation period of red squirrels approximately 39 days. The squirrel makes a nest, called a drey, similar to a birds nest. Using twigs, moss, leaves, grass and bark they form a domed structure about 25 to 30 cm in diameter.

The red squirrel diet is mainly made up of the seeds of trees, along with other common food items such as fungi, nuts such as hazelnuts and chestnuts, a variety of berries, young shoots, and even bird eggs.

The best location to spot these beautiful animals is the Formby pinewoods, which is a red squirrel reserve. You might need patience and keep your head towards the trees but the rewards are worth it. They are usually more active in the morning and evening, so as to stay out of sight of predators.

So, get your camera out and send me your pictures to graeme.rycyk@gmail.com

• Next week I will introduce another local resident, also endangered. The clues are they are famous for their call and its not a bird.

Not guilty assault plea

A SEFTON man has pleaded not guilty to assault at Sefton Magistrates on June 28.

Adrian Musgrove, 45, of Shaws Road, Southport will appear for trial at the same court on August 21.

He was given bail on condition not to approach alleged victim Oluwakemi Birbeck or witness Omolara Ore.

Staff near end of charity walk

STAFF from Experian in Southport are nearing the end of a sponsored walk to raise money for the British Heart Foundation.

The event has seen 18 staff walking 3.3 miles per day each over four weeks, which totals the distance of Southport to Sofia in Bulgaria – an impressive 1,670 miles.

The group will hang up their walking boots on Friday (July 5) and have already raised £1,125 for the charity.

Concern consumers are missing out on cheap energy

THE Energy Advice Line fears that consumers are missing out on the cheapest possible energy deals because of the overly complicated Tariff Comparison Rate (TCR).

As the system is based on average energy used, low energy users are encouraged to opt for tariffs that cost more than they need to pay.

This worry has led the Energy Advice Line to appeal to Ofgem to scrap plans for the TCR, calling for a simpler, more effective, price comparison model.

Julian Morgan, managing director of the UK's leading price comparison, switching and advice service for energy users, believes consumers are uncomfortable comparing deals meaning they're missing out on cheapest prices.

She said: "Switching suppliers is the cheapest and most effective way to keep energy bills low, yet more than half of all consumers are failing to do it."

Scheme helps new businesses succeed

Report by David Raven

A SOUTH Sefton-based organisation has reported a very successful first half of the year for its business advice and seedcorn finance scheme for new entrepreneurs across Merseyside.

South Sefton Development Trust has helped 29 new small businesses to get off the ground over the last six months, and says this reflects the fact that more people are considering self-employment in the current uncertain jobs market.

The Development Trust's service is unusual because as well as training and one-to-one business support, it also provides a £250 revenue grant.

This year's new crop of fledgling businesses include a cake designer, a training firm, several fashion designers, a bespoke handbag designer, an acting workshop and educational and careers service providers.

Other new businesses include a jewellery designer, a picture framing business, a social enterprise providing support to disadvantaged young people, a dog groomer and a fitness and diet consultant.

A particular highlight has been the creation of a new social enterprise offering a range of sewing-related services by ten local residents who successfully completed the Development Trust's Sew Good training course.

Other new entrepreneurs include fashion designer Emma Moogan, who has set up her own stylish evening wear business, Nova Vestium.

Emma graduated from Manchester University with first class honours in clothing design and technology, and went on to work as an intern with designer Anna Sui in New York.

Over the past six months, the Development Trust has also helped Catherine Cook to turn her passion for baking into a successful new business, Patti Cakes Studio.

Catherine has won many plaudits for her delicious cupcakes and larger celebration cakes for any occasion.

Development Trust Senior Business adviser, Eve Money, said: "It's been a real pleasure to help talented young people like Emma and Catherine, and I'm sure they will go on to make great successes of their new ventures."

"Overall, it's been a busy six months for us, but in an uncertain jobs markets it's been very rewarding to be able to support so many new entrepreneurs who are determined to turn their skills and passions into self-employment. We wish them all every success in the future."

South Sefton Development Trust's business support programme is part-funded by the European Regional Development Fund via Social Enterprise North West.

TEAM Fundraising and Fazakerley 9

Code NA

Report by David Raven

SOME 40 people scaled the highest mountains in England, Wales and Scotland when they took part in the Three Peak Challenge.

TEAM Fundraising Trust and Fazakerley 9 signed up to the challenge and completed it successfully raising over £4,000 each for their respective charities.

TEAM stands for Together Everyone Achieves More and helps disabled and disadvantaged children in Sefton while Fazakerley 9 look to improve social inclusion in the Liverpool community.

Several members of TEAM were completing the gruelling challenge for the fourth time.

One of these Kieran Owens, TEAM chair, said: "We suffered with really poor weather conditions so everyone did very well to pull through."

"I'd like to thank everyone who helped and gave their time up including Des from Hylift and his staff who drove us for the challenge."

"We also have our football match against ITV All-Stars coming up on July 20 at Marine's Arriva Stadium – tickets are £5 for adults and £2 for children so I look forward to seeing many Champion readers there!"

For more information on TEAM and the football event see www.teamfundraising.org.uk or follow @TeamSefton on Twitter. For information on Fazakerley 9 see fazakerley9.co.uk david.raven@champnews.com

Live like royalty with Keepmoat

With spacious homes in a great location, Keepmoat's Regency Park development offers househunters the chance to bag a Windsor or a snap up a Palace this summer.

This blossoming development on Balliol Road in Bootle offers two, three and four bedroom properties designed to suit all tastes and circumstances – from first time buyers searching for their dream home, to families looking for space to grow.

What's more, Keepmoat is offering £1,000 of vouchers for garden equipment to buyers who bring the advert to the sales office when they reserve. Buyers need to act fast for the chance to deck out their new gardens, as they have just two weeks to claim this reward.

Regency Park has plenty of stunning properties to choose from, and with the latest government finance scheme you needn't part with a princely sum to secure one of these homes.

Launched earlier this year, the government's Help to Buy initiative is already helping househunters secure their perfect properties. The scheme means purchasers need only save a 5% deposit and find a mortgage for 75% of the property price. The remaining 20% of the property price is covered by an equity loan, which can be paid back at any time, or on the sale of the home.

Thanks to Help to Buy a three bedroom semi detached Windsor home on the development could cost as little as £91,995 (normal price £114,995).

Boasting three bedrooms, a stylish kitchen diner, spacious living room, family bathroom and convenient downstairs cloakroom, Keepmoat's Windsor design offers househunters the chance to snap up a slice of luxury in Bootle. And better still, plots 138 and 139 are Star Buy properties, meaning they come with carpets, blinds and light fittings included.

Those looking for a smaller royal residence needn't worry as Keepmoat also has a Palace for sale. This two bedroom property is perfect for young buyers looking to get a foot on the property ladder, and with Help to Buy, getting the keys to your first home is now easier than ever. With the finance scheme, this house with a garage is on the market for just £69,995 (£86,995 normal price).

Jen Brown, Regional Sales Manager at Keepmoat, said: "You don't need to be a royal to afford a Windsor or a Palace here in Bootle. And what's more, with our latest offer, you could kit out your new garden in time for the BBQ season – if you're quick!"

For full details, visit Regency Park at Balliol Road, Bootle L20 7EA. The sales office is open Thursday to Sunday 10am to 5pm or Monday 10am to 6pm.

For more information, call 0151 909 2497 or visit keepmoat.com.

Judy and Liza was vocal gold

 Review by Jenny Robson

- Judy and Liza
- Epstein Theatre, Liverpool

ALMOST five decades after Judy Garland and Liza Minnelli appeared at the London Palladium, these performers have been remembered in a sensational show, which came to Liverpool on Saturday evening for the last night of its 2013 UK Tour.

Featuring West End stars Emma Dears as Liza and Lucy Williamson as Judy the show told the remarkable stories of two of the world's most legendary stars of stage and screen through song, dance and photographs.

After having changed her name from Frances Gumm, Judy, was finding it difficult to break into show business – too young to be cute yet not old enough to play mature parts – until MGM's Louis B Mayer heard her sing a song for Clark Gable at a party. She was soon cast with Mickey Rooney in Babes in Arms and next came The Wizard of Oz. The rest, as they say, is history.

Liza was the only child from Judy's marriage to film producer Vincente Minnelli. She once said that she inherited her drive from her mother but her dreams from her father. There is no doubt that she adored her father.

At 16 she announced she wanted to go into show business; that was when Judy cut her loose without financial help. And, as we all now know, she carved out a hugely successful career.

Renowned musical director, Simon Beck, accompanied them on the piano as they sang all the well-known songs, many of which had parallels with Judy's and Liza's tragic and lonely lives – Maybe This Time, Smile, Two Lost Souls, You Made Me Love You, The Man That Got Away and of course Lucy's heart-rending Somewhere Over the Rainbow.

Emma Dears' powerful performance of Cabaret was magnificent and she is to be congratulated on writing and producing such a wonderful show.

Score: 9/10 – Vocal gold! Astonishing!

Two Pints of Lager star to appear in 9 To 5: The Musical

TWO Pints of Lager star Natalie Casey is to appear in Dolly Parton's 9 To 5: The Musical when it returns to Liverpool Empire Theatre.

Natalie Casey will star as Judy Bernly in the production which comes to the city from July 30 to August 3.

Jackie Clune will be Violet Newstead, Anita Louise Combe will play Roz Keith, and Amy Lennox is Doralee Rhodes.

Natalie Casey is probably best known as Donna in nine series of Two Pints of Lager and a Packet of Crisps. Her theatre credits include Oklahoma! at Chichester Festival Theatre and Legally Blonde in the West End. She is currently appearing as Ange in Abigail's Party, also in the West End.

Dolly Parton said: "I am so excited that 9 to 5 the Musical is coming to the UK. I'm hoping you have as much fun watching it as I had writing the music for it."

9 TO 5: THE MUSICAL is a new musical comedy, based on the hit movie and centres on three office workers who turn the tables on their sexist, egotistical, lying, hypocritical bigot of a boss. They conspire to take control of the company and learn there's nothing they can't do.

This show features Dolly Parton's original hit title song, 9 to 5, which won her an Oscar nomination and four Grammy Award nominations along with her new Tony and Grammy nominated score. The show includes 18 original Dolly Parton numbers, including numbers from her last two albums Backwoods Barbie, Shine Like the Sun, Get Out and Stay Out and Let Love Grow.

The musical is written by Patricia Resnick, with music and lyrics by Dolly Parton. It is directed by Jeff

Jackie Clune as Violet Newstead, Amy Lennox as Doralee Rhodes and Natalie Casey as Judy Bernly in 9 to 5
Code NA

Calhoun who has just directed the Tony Award winning Newsies – The Musical for Disney on Broadway. 9 TO 5: THE MUSICAL features Dolly Parton from her desk in Dollywood.

PRAYER

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. M.E.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published. 42816

Sacred Heart

May the sacred heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world forever.

Now and forever, Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us.

Saint Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us.

Saint Jude, helper of the helpless, pray for us.

Say this prayer nine times a day for nine days. By the 8th day your prayer will be answered. Never known to fail. Publication must be promised.

M.E.

Great British Grand Prix is far better television than Wimbledon

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

IN THE middle of a summer stashed full of car shows, last weekend was all about staying in. Specifically, it was about some of the best petrolhead telly in years.

Whether you're an F1 addict or someone who – like me – occasionally dips into motorsport's equivalent of the Premier League, the British Grand Prix last weekend offered up some of the most gripping racing I've seen in ages.

Bored of Wimbledon and unsure whether I'm either too cool or not quite cool enough to get into Glastonbury, I happily flicked over to Silverstone for a bit of V8-powered relief.

Naturally, being British, I wanted Lewis – who'd qualified on pole – to win.

If that'd happened I'm pretty sure the Queen herself would have arrived to congratulate him, the Northamptonshire circuit would have been treated to a flypast by the Red Arrows and the nation would have breathed a collective sigh of relief after realizing we can still win at something. Unfortunately, a bit of a puncture on his Pirellis, early on into the race, left him at the back of the grid.

Lewis' loss, however, was the fans' gain, because it was one of the tensest races I've seen in years. The screamer from Stevenage didn't manage to win, but he did succeed in getting from last to fourth, via some pretty spectacular driving, while Mark Webber came out of nowhere to snatch second. Meanwhile, in my living room, I grunted the excited squeak of a farmyard animal when Sebastian Vettel's gearbox gave up the ghost. Frankly, I loved the whole unpredictable spectacle.

Speaking of the predictable, I'd been counting down the days until that other great staple of petrolhead telly – Top Gear – romped back into the schedules later that evening, regardless of whether you love it or hate it.

For what it's worth, I still think there's a yawning great chasm – probably somewhere in the depths of BBC Four – for a proper, sensible TV show about all matters motoring, but that doesn't mean I didn't enjoy TG's return.

The more flak that gets thrown at Top Gear by Daily Mail readers, the stronger the show's content seems to get – and Jezza, Slow and Hamster have been through the usual barrage of pre-show criticism. That's why I'm expecting great things from the hour I swap the driver's seat for the sofa each Sunday night.

Car shows every other weekend, some vaguely summer-esque weather to enjoy driving for a change and Top Gear on Sunday nights to round it all off nicely. Much better than standing around in a field in Somerset waiting for Mumford and Sons, I reckon!

Tech heavy Mercedes S-Class prices unveiled

PRICES of the world's most technologically advanced motors – the new Mercedes S-Class – have just been announced.

Mercedes-Benz said the latest generation of its flagship saloon will start at £62,650 when it arrives in the UK, with the cheapest being the diesel-engined S350 Blu-Tec model.

The German firm said of the new arrival: "The S-Class has never ceased to raise technology standards, pioneering safety, comfort and engineering features such as ABS, anti-lock brakes, SRS airbag, catalytic converters and Night View Assist.

"The new S-Class promises to

Mercedes is promoting the S-Class on its technology and luxury Code NA continue to raise the benchmark in efficiency, in comfort, refinement and personalisation."

The range will initially comprise one diesel, one petrol and one hybrid model each, with the priciest being the S500 L AMG Line, at a cool £88,130.

The first S-Class models will reach the UK in October.

Citroen Grand C4 will be a family hit

CITROEN is hoping its latest offering in the world of people carriers – the latest C4 Grand Picasso – will prove a hit with families across the north west.

The French firm said the seven-seater has more window glass than any of its competitors, which it believes will make the interior of the new people mover a light and airy place to be on longer journeys.

Among the draws of the latest C4 Grand Picasso is an emphasis on sharper exterior styling, more room on the inside, and an all new diesel engine which emits a tax friendly 110g/km of CO2.

The original C4 Grand was first unveiled in 2006 as a range of two compact MPVs.

One of the main features of both cars is the enormous windscreen which stretches back into the roof beyond the back of the driver's head.

Expect the new C4 Grand Picasso to go on sale across Britain later this year

New Nissan prices

ANYONE searching for a new small car is being urged to take Note of the prices of two newly launched Nissan models.

The company's new Micra, which arrives this September, will start at £9,950, while the larger Note, which lands a month later, will begin at £11,900.

For more information on the two new models visit Nissan's website at www.nissan.co.uk

Summer tyre warning

OVER 78 per cent of European vehicles are driven on tyres that are unfit for the road, a survey has revealed.

With summer just around the corner, Bridgestone is urging motorists to spend a short time checking their tyres before long journeys, after research suggested that tyre safety was being ignored.

A total of 28,700 free tyre safety checks were conducted by Bridgestone across Europe, which also unearthed 28 per cent of vehicles on either 'seriously' underinflated products or tyres worn beyond the legal limit.

ADVERTISING FEATURE

FOR ALL YOUR MOTORCYCLE NEEDS

There are few motorcycle firms which can truly claim to be a one-stop shop for all things two-wheeled, but The Hogfather Motorcycles (THM) in Southport, can indeed authentically claim to be just that. Over the last decade, Yeti Edwards and his crew have quietly - and sometimes not so quietly! - created a business which caters for everyone from the youngster (or, for that matter, person of more mature years) who is thinking about buying a bike and applying for his or her licence, to the person wanting a full-blown, one-off ground-up custom build. In between, they cover everything from servicing and maintenance to bespoke and aftermarket parts with a fast turnaround ride-in service and tyre bay. In fact, the amount of facilities that they've managed to cram into a Victorian former Primitive Methodist chapel is quite astounding. It should also be noted that not only does THM deal with bikes, but also with trikes and quads; the company also are authorised dealers and service centre for Rewaco trikes and Quadzilla four-wheelers, all - of course - with the impressive back-up service. Show-winning custom paint, leatherwork, chroming, even vinyl wrapping? No problem, sir.

In addition to this, The Hogfather Motorcycles has taken yet another step into the technological age within their design team, on this initiative headed up by Kerrie, a budding bike builder in her own right and a graduate 2D/3D CAD engineering designer. You'll soon be able to sit down with Kerrie (or even undertake the process by email and phone) and see your dream build come together in a fully dimensional design, using whatever products you stipulate. With the back-up of the THM's engineers, led by James, it will allow you to not only design a complete build, but also to check, in short, if it will work; anyone who's embarked on a ground-up project will know that there is always something unforeseen that doesn't or just looks plain wrong and this allows you to circumvent those problems. It's a novel and innovative idea, aimed not only at those commissioning the company to create them a motorcycle, but also at people who want to take on the build themselves but want to be absolutely confident with the design before committing any money. In this scenario, once you're happy with the design, you sign it off and The Hogfather Motorcycles then provides you with the 2D and/or 3D CAD drawings and a fully-costed parts list for a non-refundable deposit - or refunded, against the cost, if you choose The Hogfather Motorcycles to build your dream bike or trike for you.

Bowlers shine as Bootle claim 15-run victory

FIRWOOD Bootle's Med Imaging Liverpool & District Competition Premier League match against the reigning champions Lytham at Wadham Road last Saturday produced a close and exciting contest in which the hosts prevailed in a nerve jangling finish.

The visitors put Bootle in and sent back openers Craig Prince and Matthew Thompson with only nine runs scored.

Stephen Parry (59) and Michael Gill (57) righted the ship with a third wicket partnership of 101, but the rest of the home batsmen were disappointingly unable to build upon this good foundation.

Only David Snellgrove (16) and Adam Burton (20 not out) reached double figures and Bootle were all out in the 54th over for 192 – a total which seemed barely adequate against one of the league's stronger batting outfits.

The Lytham off spinner Dan Edwards took six of the last eight wickets to fall to finish with a very good 6–53.

When the visitors replied, Will Purser dismissed the prolific Alex Davies caught behind with the third ball of the innings, while Parry got rid of the other opener, Fayaz Ughradar, for 2.

Bootle tails were now up though they were unable to stem useful stands of 53 for the third wicket (Dominic O'Brien and Guy Roberts) and 50 for the fourth (O'Brien and Will Hale).

Lytham were now in the ascendancy and when the last 20 overs began they required only 61 to win with five wickets intact.

Purser and Parry then started

But under-strength team is well beaten in county cup to pose serious problems for the lower order batsmen as four wickets went down in successive overs. The ninth was lost at 153 and Bootle were firm favourites with the victory target still 40 runs distant.

The last pair, Edwards and Martin Hackett, whittled the requirement down to 15, but Parry eventually tempted the former into a big hit which was safely plucked from the air by Glenn Aitken and Bootle had won by 14 runs with 7.3 overs in hand, Purser taking 5–85 and Parry 4–33.

Injuries and unavailability meant Bootle sending an understrength side to Garstang for the following day's Lancashire Cup encounter, and the bowlers did not exactly cover themselves in glory by conceding 37 wides in the home side's total of 203–7.

Craig Prince anchored the reply with a solid 46, but Bootle succumbed for 173 in the 41st over to lose by 30 runs.

This weekend Bootle travel to Southport for a league fixture and the following afternoon host Ormskirk in the quarter-final of the Ray Digman Trophy.

Northern still on top after sneaking home to victory

NORTHERN remain on top of the table in the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division after sneaking home to a narrow two wicket win in a low scoring match at home to New Brighton.

After being put into bat the visitors had no real answer to Tom Sephton (6–28) and Stephen Cole (4–43) as they were bowled out for 122, with David While top scoring with 20.

In reply the hosts got off to a fine start and at 55–0 were looking very comfortable until Lancashire's Adnan Ghaus took 5–32 and they slipped to 91–6, however Paul Park (12*) held his nerve and they eventually reached 113–8 to wrap up victory, with Stephen Lucas (47) and Jack Boardman (35) top scoring.

Ormskirk closed the gap on Northern with a commanding eight wicket home win over struggling Hightown.

After deciding to bat the visitors were bowled out for 113, with only D'Arcy Short (31) and Kris Jones (29) able to offer much resistance to a bowling attack containing Lancashire squad players Simon Kerrigan

Sephton takes six wickets but it's a tense finish after batting collapse

(3–28), Liam Hurt (3–23) and Gavin Griffiths (2–23). In reply an unbeaten 52 from John Armstrong and 44 from opener Matty Glazer took the hosts to victory on 121–2 in 25.4 overs.

Fleetwood Hesketh had much the better of their clash against Maghull yet only gained a one more point in a closely fought draw at Sea Cop.

Batting first the hosts recovered for 6–2 and 117–7 to eventually score 211, thanks to valuable contributions from Neil Rimmer (63), Tommy Wareing (39), Andrew Watts (32), Matt Collins (25) and Steve Gregory (20) whilst Ryan Swiers (5–98) was the pick of the bowlers.

In reply Maghull looked to be in contention at 92–2 until a rush of wickets from Adnan Malik (5–36) saw the game turned on its head and the visitors desperately hanging on for a draw in the end on 136–9, with Donovan Pell (51) and Sairaj Patel (26) top scoring.

Southport & Birkdale lost by 53 runs at Wallasey.

The hosts decided to bat first and were bowled out for 162, with Greg Beaver (51) and Graham Reid (41) the only players to offer much with the bat against a strong bowling attack with Jordan Bell (4–30) and Craig Todd (3–40) were both in fine form.

In reply S&B had no real answer to Neil Cross (6–41) and Andrew Ward (3–18) as they were dismissed for 109 with Matty Jackson top scoring with 25.

This weekend's local LDCC Premier Division fixtures (1pm start) are: Fleetwood Hesketh v Highfield, Hightown v Maghull, Lytham v Northern, New Brighton v Ormskirk, S&B v Bootle.

Fowler rejoins Mariners

STRIKER Andy Fowler has rejoined Marine from Warrington Town.

Fowler, 26, first joined Marine in 2011 from Northwich Victoria making 17 appearances and scoring four goals before moving on to AFC Fylde.

Fowler returned to Marine last summer scoring nine goals in 27 appearances but left in January this year.

It is Marine manager Phil Brazier's first signing of a player on contract.

Marine manager Phil Brazier said: "Everyone at the club is looking forward to seeing Andy in the black and white oshirts of Marine once again.

"The quality Andy possesses is second to none and this is the reason we have recruited such a talent.

"Although there has been stiff competition for the signature of Andy, we are delighted he has put pen to paper and signed for Marine. We believe Andy will prove to be a huge success and help bring the glory days back to Marine.

"We are constantly looking to improve and this signing is a major step towards our goals for the forthcoming season."

Marine chairman Paul Leary added: "As a Marine fan I am really pleased that Phil has been able to persuade Andy to rejoin Marine.

"He is an exciting player with pace and an eye for those very special goals. His goal last season in the FA Cup qualifying game at Trafford gave us a day to remember. I look forward this time for Andy to have a prolonged stay at Marine and that is why we have decided, with him, to put him on contract. Both Phil and I want him to stay and enjoy his football at Marine and help us to success in the new season ahead."
